

KSKQ is a newly formed low-power FM (LPFM) radio station based in Ashland. Our license limits us to 100 watts of effective radiated power.

KSKQ is streaming (web casting) on the internet. You can listen on www.KSKQ.org 24/7.

KSKQ's mission is: to empower our local community through inclusive programming that frames our own issues, creates our own media, and advances understanding and social change through dialogue.

KSKQ Business Plan

KSKQ is staffed completely with volunteers. Our overhead is relatively low, and we are looking for a new space to occupy. KSKQ raises funds via: memberships, fundraising, grants, donations, productions, and events.

KSKQ is organized into an Interim Steering Committee (ISC) which will convert to a permanent governing body within six months of getting on the air. We see paid part-time positions in the future.

Our long term goal is to be self-sustaining by generating our own power and operating "off grid."

KSKQ is operating under the auspice of the Multicultural Association of Southern Oregon, a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization with 12 years of success.
